

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY AT HADRIAN'S VILLA

RESULTS OF THE 2016
ARCHAEOLOGICAL CAMPAIGN

FRANCESCO DE ANGELIS (Columbia) and MARCO MAIURO (La Sapienza, Rome; Columbia), co-directors of the Advanced Program of Ancient History and Art (APAHA), will present results, discuss their significance, and announce exciting developments for 2017 at Hadrian's Villa, a UNESCO World Heritage site. APAHA was incubated by the Italian Academy and by H2CU, and it includes a summer course for graduate and undergraduate students.

FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.
REGISTRATION REQUESTED:
www.italianacademy.columbia.edu

CO-SPONSORS:
H2CU at La Sapienza, Rome;
and at Columbia University:
Classical Studies Graduate Program;
Department of Art History & Archaeology;
Center for the Ancient Mediterranean;
Italian Academy.

THURSDAY · MARCH 23 · 2017 · 5:30 PM

ITALIAN ACADEMY FOR ADVANCED STUDIES, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
1161 AMSTERDAM AVE (SOUTH OF 118TH ST) NYC